

NINETY PER CENT OF THE TURKS ARE PRO-AMERICAN; ALL FRIENDLY TO ENTENTE

For U. S. to Declare War on Moslems Would Be Folly.

COULD ONLY MAKE FACES

And That Would Stir Them to Madness, Dr. Ussher Says.

NOT ALL ARE SAVAGES

Majority of the Populace, Says Missionary, Are Opposed to Massacres of Armenians; Horrors of Outrages Ordered by the Government Told.

Ninety per cent of the people of Turkey are pro-American. Practically all the population is favorable to the cause of the Entente. Eighty per cent of the people are opposed to massacres of the Armenian or Christian population of the Ottoman empire, said Dr. Clarence D. Ussher, American missionary, last night in his address at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief.

For the United States to go to war with the Moslems would be folly, he said. He praised the attitude of the administration in regard to the Turkish situation. "Germany would like to have us declare war on Turkey," he said, "but we are not in a position to do anything, but make faces to do anything, but make faces," he added, "and that would only make the Turks mad."

The Ottoman government, however, said, should be wiped from the face of the earth.

Germany dominates the Turks, Dr. Ussher indicated. "Like Germany, Turkey was prepared for the world war before it began." Large bodies of troops were moved toward the Russian border a year before the struggle began, he said.

In China at the beginning of the war, said Dr. Ussher, Germany had 60 army officers and scores of military plants in the hope of swaying the Chinese to the side of the central empires. Christian missionaries saved the day for the Allied cause there. They were worth more to the Entente than an army of ten millions, declared the doctor.

Dr. Ussher told of a trip to Palestine, where, on the Mount of Olives, a huge pile-like structure had been erected by the German emperor as the proposed seat of government—German empire—first of the Holy Land, and of the world, in the Kaiser's ambitious scheme for world domination, such of Dr. Ussher's lecture was devoted to the atrocities perpetrated by the Turks against the Armenians—ir slaughter by the thousands. He stated a few incidents of the several massacres, six of which he witnessed, could go on horrifying you for years," he said.

The speaker devoted considerable time to the history of the massacres of the province of Van in which he located for upwards of 16 years a missionary and where he established hospitals and rendered aid to thousands of victims of the fanatical slaughter of the Turks. In one slaughter in which 50,000 persons were killed, he said, so many bodies were thrown into Lake Van, a body of water 1,400 square miles in area, that inhabitants were forbidden to use the fish of the lake for fear of contracting disease due to the fish eating putrefied human bodies.

Dr. Ussher related many instances of wholesale slaughter by order of the central government. One lot of more than 2,000, many of them highly educated and cultured people, were taken out into the lake in boats. In two hours the boats came back empty.

In another instance 1,216 persons were led to the place of execution and hewed to death with axes. In another a regiment of convicts was turned loose on villages with rifles and sabres and the execution they wrought on helpless men, women and children was beyond description.

Finally he dwelt on the Armenians being driven from their homes into the desert land and of their starving condition, this leading up to the appeal for aid on the part of the people in succoring the starving thousands—Armenians and Assyrians.

Dr. Ussher was oftentimes in peril of his life in dealing with the Turks and only by putting on a bold front did he save the day.

During one of the attacks by the Turks on the Armenian quarter of Van he was struck on the nose by a bullet and carries the scar.

Dr. Ussher and his wife, and several of their co-workers contracted typhus from refugees and Mrs. Ussher died. Dr. Ussher declared that his recovery was as plainly a miracle as any related in the Bible.

Dr. Ussher's closing words were an appeal to Americans to remember when they are having their vacations and living in comparative luxury that the starving thousands over there cannot live this month or next on last month's very meagre supply of food.

Dr. Ussher spoke briefly in Armenian to a small gathering of people of that nationality gathered in the front seats.

Rev. G. L. C. Richardson presided at the meeting. Rev. S. Strauss, the Jewish rabbi, led in prayer. Rev. J. T. Burns introduced the speaker. Prof. Haviland led the audience in patriotic songs.

SIXTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS PLEDGED FOR ARMENIANS

That Amount Will Support 26 Starving Persons in Asia Minor for Twelve Months.

At the meeting last evening at the high school building in the interest of relief of starving Armenians and Assyrians the sum of $1,640 was pledged, while $255.55 in cash was received, according to announcement today by Rev. Wilbur Nelson of the Connellsville Ministerial association.

No definite amount for the city to raise has been fixed. Last year the quota was $2,800. This year the needs are said to be double. The campaign for funds will be continued. Along what line has not been mapped out, it was stated.

Five dollars a month will support one of the starving Armenians and Assyrians. On this basis the amount received will maintain 26 persons for a year. There are a million and a half starving, according to Dr. C. D. Ussher, who spoke in behalf of the society for Armenian relief.

In the audience were eight Armenians. They pledged a total of $9 per month in addition to giving $24 in cash. Besides this they are giving regularly to the cause.

WILL BE NO SALE

Of Thompson's Greene County Coal Land for Delinquent Taxes.

Judge Charles P. Orr of the United States District Court, yesterday handed down an opinion refusing to allow the treasurer of Greene county to sell part of the 7,000 acres of coal land in that county owned by J. V. Thompson for unpaid taxes which have accumulated during the past five years. Judge Orr gave as his reason that such a sale would interfere with the proposed blanket sale of the property to the H. C. Frick Coke company for approximately $3,400,000, and that the interests of all creditors would be served by postponing the tax sales for a reasonable time.

Counsel for the Greene county treasurer represented to the court that the county roads and schools are in bad shape for lack of the money due the county.

VOLUNTEER FARM LABOR WILL BE AMPLE FOR NEEDS

Adequate Force Being Lined Up By Recently Appointed Manager.

DOZEN TEAMS IN CITY

Connellsville Plan Being Followed With Success in Other Parts of the County; District Chairmen Are Named to Direct the Recruiting.

Volunteer farm labor is being lined up in Fayette county and will be at the command of the farmers when the need arises, according to Jacob G. Fast, farm labor manager appointed by the Committee of Public Safety. Mr. Fast has been organizing the county ever since his appointment something more than a month ago, and has met with commendable success. There is, however, a need for additional volunteers, and an appeal is being made to the business and professional men of the county, as well as men in every occupation to offer their services for farm work.

The Connellsville plan of organizing teams of volunteer workers is being tried with every promise of success. In Connellsville, Robert Norris, chairman of the volunteer farm labor committee, has organized approximately a dozen teams of 15 men each, which will be available during the harvest season. Many of these men will also give their services at other times, if needed. It is proposed to extend this plan to other sections of the county, and to this end Farm Labor Manager Fast has appointed district chairmen. Those who have been named up to this time are as follows:

Vanderbilt, J. B. Henderson, with George M. Strickler as assistant; Brownsville, James Craft; Masontown, George Honsaker; Uniontown, Edward Cornish; Fayette City, J. M. Hare; Point Marion, R. C. McCain, with Rev. Payne as assistant; Connellsville, Robert Norris; Republic, Solomon Krepps.

In Uniontown it is hoped to enlist the services of many lawyers and professional men who can spare the time to perform the patriotic duty of assisting to increase the yield of foodstuffs within the county. Carpenters and other workmen will also be solicited.

Owing to the practical impossibility of conducting a county-wide canvass for volunteers, every man who is able to devote one or more days a week, or even portions of days, for work on farms, is requested to fill out the blank which appears elsewhere in this paper, and forward it either to the district chairman or to Farm Labor Manager Fast, whose office is in Room 735 of the National Bank Building, Uniontown.

In addition to organizing the various communities for farm labor, Mr. Fast has visited farmers in all sections of the county explaining the plan which is to be followed this year, and from a majority of them has received assurances of hearty cooperation.

Unless there is an ample supply of labor for the farms of the county, Fayette faces a dangerous food shortage during the coming winter. The Food Administration has issued ample warning that every community must be as near self-supporting as possible. Fayette farmers are able to produce greatly increased crops, but they must help to harvest them. Owing to the industrial importance of the county, the supply of farm labor is more seriously affected here than in the purely agricultural counties, and for this reason it has been necessary to make an appeal for volunteer labor.

Liberal payment will be made to all who volunteer for farm labor. In communities where teams are organized arrangements will be made for automobile owners to furnish cars for the transportation of the workers. The customary rate of pay will be based on a full day's work, with two meals furnished by the farmer.

Elsewhere in The Courier today will be found a coupon for use of those wishing to volunteer their services.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK FOR DOWLING

Honor Will Be Paid to First Connellsville Soldier to Give Up His Life in France.

Solemn requiem high mass the date to be announced later, will be solemnized next week at the Immaculate Conception church by Rev. Father John T. Burns for William Francis Dowling, 26 years old, the first Connellsville soldier to die in France. A telegram was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dowling of East Church place, announcing the death of their son on June 4 of peritonitis.

The young soldier was a draftsman, leaving for Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., on September 23 last. Later he was transferred to Camp Meigs, Washington, D. C., and from there left for duty overseas.

He was a machinist in the Quartermaster's Corps, repairing motor trucks. On May 28 his parents received a letter from him, stating that he was in splendid health. However, a letter written on May 15 to a friend here, stated that he was sick and very feverish, but hoped to be better soon. Young Dowling while at home had suffered from attacks of gall stones, and at one time underwent an operation for another ailment. Since his connection with the military service he was granted two furloughs, being home over Thanksgiving and Christmas, the last furlough being only for a duration of 48 hours. The young soldier was one of the best known young men of Connellsville, and was very popular among his friends.

Dowling was born at Hays Springs, Nebraska, February 6, 1892, a son of Richard and Blanche Dowling. When he was four years old the family moved to Connellsville, residing here since. He was educated in the parochial schools and later learned the machinist trade at the plant of the Boyts-Porter company, following that occupation until leaving for military service. Previous to going to Camp Lee he was employed at the machine shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company. He was a member of the Immaculate Conception church, the Knights of Columbus and Young Men of the Knights of the Maccabees. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Charles Chambers, East Connellsville; Mrs. E. F. Kessler, Connellsville; Anna, Blancher, Pleasant, Lawrence, John, Joseph and Francis Dowling, all at home. A brother, Richard Dowling, was killed in 1901 when the tower from the old parochial school building was being removed. A falling log struck him on the head.

A letter written on May 24 by Dowling to P. J. O'Connor of East Crawford avenue, reached here today. The writer stated that he had not been very well, suffering from a touch of the grip.

REVIEWED BY BAKER

Local Boys Parade Before Secretary and Other Officials.

A letter received from E. P. Hannigan, who left here with the draftees from District No. 2 on May 29, says some of the men from this section, including himself took part in a review on Friday before Secretary of War Baker and other high army officials. Hannigan was rejected on June 4 but made an effort to be retained for at least limited service. Thursday night he was mustered in and received a uniform. Friday he was given a rifle and in the late forenoon of the same day took part in the review.

"Until the last few days," the letter reads, "the fellows who left home on the 29th have had things mighty soft and, excepting that we are restricted to the vicinity of our own barracks, it has been sort of a vacation. The last couple of days, however, we have received some mighty stiff drilling—no getting in from the drill grounds last night until after 9 o'clock. We all have a bare possibility of getting transferred into the 37th division, a National Guard unit recruiting to full war strength here. I hope I am one of the fortunate ones." Hannigan is at present in the 18th Co., 5th Bn., 35th Depot Brigade, Camp Lee.

Grandpa Is Sixty-four Today
and in the best of health. Hale and hearty, with good red blood, good appetite and good digestion. Grandpa's nerves are steady, too. He takes care of himself. He keeps himself fit. He sees to it that his nerves and blood are in good shape. When he finds that he is eating without relish, feeling a little depressed and cross, sleepy all day yet can't sleep at night, he begins his treatment of Bio-feren, the nerve and blood tonic. Bio-feren, a compound of Lactogen, Iron Peptonate and other valuable tonic elements in tablet form, is just exactly what the average tired business man, the average housekeeper needs at this season of the year. It tones the nerves and puts vigor and energy into the system. There is no mystery about Bio-feren. Every package shows just exactly the content. Ask your doctor about Bio-feren, or if you wish, send us his name and we will forward him the complete formula. Give Bio-feren a fair trial. If it doesn't make good your money will be promptly returned to you. Interesting booklet will be mailed you on request. Large package $1.00 at all good druggists or direct if your druggist doesn't handle it. The National Remedial Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

WOMAN IS AN EXAMINEE
FOR TRADE COMMISSION.

Miss Marion L. Davies, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is one of the first women to be appointed examiner under the federal trade commission. She is doing research work in the congressional library, investigating facts about the manufacture of various articles. She has brought to the work two years' experience in a secretarial job with the commission, and before that she was a reporter.

This is not only true in her knowledge of children and of dietetics and of how to care for the sick, but in her attitude toward housekeeping and her attitude toward life. Her understanding of the "why" of things lifts the small, tedious things of housekeeping, whether it be the cleaning of a room or the sterilizing of milk bottles, to a place of interest and dignity. And her contact with all kinds of people in the hospital, in their joys and their sufferings, broadening her sympathies and her outlook, adds that much insight and inspiration to her relation with her children and her husband and her community.

No woman is so well prepared to meet the sudden emergencies of accident or sickness that occur in every home as the woman who has had the training of the nurse. In fact, to every detail of the health, care of her family and the hygienic care of her house, the hospital training contributes something that is useful or precious.

More and more the hospital training is regarded as a splendid foundation for all kinds of public service in which women are engaged, and more and more it will be deliberately planned as a preparation also for home life. A greater number of young women are entering training schools now than ever before. This is naturally true because of the war, but without doubt the training schools will have to continue to enlarge their facilities for students in the years immediately following.

The American Red Cross, the United States Army and Navy Nurse Corps and the Council of National Defense are all urging the young women graduates of today to enter schools for nurses.

Francis avenue residents are beginning to doubt that their thoroughfare was ever paved by council with good intentions.

The garbage problem has outgrown the jitney class.

Congress betrays signs of an intention to bomb the bomb-proof jobs.

The plain clothes officer resembles the conscientious objector, who also have an aversion to wearing uniforms, but not for the same reason, of course.

Now it is the colored troops that have shown the Huns how to put up a real fight.

That was a wise and just decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board to grant compensation to the widows of alien enemies killed or injured in the industrial plants of this state. We must not descend to the level of the Hun and seek vengeance upon the helpless and innocent. Pennsylvania and the whole world can well permit the obloquy of such a course of conduct to forever rest, and rest alone, upon Germany.

A TOAST TO THE KAISER.
Here's to the Blue of the wind-swept North;
When we meet on the fields of France
May the spirit of Grant be with you all
As the sons of the North advance.
And here's to the Gray of the sun-kissed South;
When we meet on the fields of France
May the spirit of Lee be with you all
As the sons of the South advance.
And here's to the Blue and Gray as one;
When we meet on the fields of France
May the spirit of God be with you all
As the sons of the Flag advance.

FOR PERMANENT UNION

Gradually Customs and Duties Would ment of German Vice Chancellor.

By Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, June 12.—Permanent economic and military union between Germany and Austria-Hungary, with the gradual disappearance of customs, duties and frontiers, is proposed by Frederick von Payer, imperial vice chancellor of Germany, in a statement published in the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna and quoted in the Voessische Zeitung of Berlin.

Included in this scheme of a Mittel Europa under domination of the German Powers are Russia, Poland, Bulgaria and Turkey.

The vice chancellor points out that with this union once effected the peace of Europe would be in the hands of the Teutonic allies.

The settlement of vexing problems arising from the war would be made more easy, and the solution of internal questions also, would be facilitated.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"The Guilt of Silence," a five-part Bluebird feature, in which Monroe Salisbury and Ruth Clifford are seen in the leading roles, is being shown today. "The Guilt of Silence" is the story of a man stricken dumb by ex-posure in Alaska, who is accused by an irate husband of an unpardonable crime, and unable to defend himself.
In several of the scenes of the feature, declared by Salisbury to be the best while in which he has appeared,
"Wolfe," a member of the dog team,
of which there were six, plays a most dramatic part. The dog, a magnificent specimen of the Alaska "huskie," one-fourth dog and three-fourths timber wolf, displayed an almost human intelligence in obeying the commands of the star and director of the picture. No effort was spared to make the picture from a scenic and photographic point, surrounded by typical atmosphere, a perfect production of mysterious Alaska. A selected comedy is included. Tomorrow
Montague Love, Barbara Castleton, Madge Evans, George MacQuarrie, prominent World stars, will be seen in "Vengeance," the story of a man who is part Indian, part Englishman, who is brought up by the priests of Buddha. On his twenty-first birthday this young man is given the inheritance left to him by his father, and to his unbounded surprise he finds that this is an inheritance of bait, that his father has bequeathed to him a duty of vengeance.

THE ORPHEUM.

"HIDDEN PEARLS."—Sessue Hayakawa appears as star in his latest Paramount photoplay, "Hidden Pearls," from the story of Beaulieu Mario Dix. Much of the action takes place out of doors, and the scene is laid in a remote South Sea island, of which Hayakawa is ruler, being the son of a native princess, last of her line, and an American pearl trader.

A War-Time Request from "Information"

THOUSANDS of times each day our "Information" operators are asked for telephone numbers which are listed correctly in the telephone directory.

Calls to "Information" require greater service on the part of the operator, more time, and a more extended general use of telephone equipment, than any other form of local calls.

Great activity in business has brought about tremendously enlarged volumes of telephone calling and demands for telephone service; telephone users will assist in handling this war-time load if they will ask for "Information" only after they have looked carefully in the directory for the number.
Then the facilities required in handling the unnecessary information calls may be applied to care for the increasing volumes of important messages. Telephone service and communication are vital today; don't call "Information" unless you absolutely have to and thus help us as we serve!

PETEY DINK—Hand it to Pete, He Beat the Fly to It

"OUTWITTING THE HUN"

By LIEUTENANT PAT O'BRIEN.

Although as I have said, I suffered greatly from hunger while occupying this house, there were one or two things I observed through the keyhole or from the window which made me laugh, and some of the incidents that occurred during my voluntary imprisonment were really funny.

From the keyhole I could see, for instance, a shop window on the other side of the street, several houses down the block. All day long German soldiers would be passing in front of the house and I noticed that practically every one of them would stop in front of this store window and look in.

Occasionally a soldier on duty bent over and peered in, but I think none of them were sufficiently interested to spend at least a minute, and some of them three or four minutes gazing at whatever was being exhibited in that window, although I noticed that it failed to attract the Belgians.

I have a considerable streak of curiosity in me, and I couldn't help wondering what it could be in that window which almost without exception seemed to interest German soldiers but failed to hold the Belgians, and after conjuring my brains for a while on the problem I came to the conclusion that the shop must have been a book shop and the window contained German magazines, which, naturally enough, would be of the greatest interest to the Germans but of none to the Belgians.

At any rate I resolved that as soon as night came I would go out and investigate the window. When I got the answer I laughed so loud that I was afraid for the moment I must have attracted the attention of the neighbors, but I couldn't help it. The window was filled with huge quantities of magazines! The store was a butcher shop and one of the principal things they sold apparently was sausage. The display they made, although it consisted merely of magazines piled in the window, certainly had plenty of "pulling" power. If "pulled" nine German soldiers out of their course and suddenly "pulled" me right across the street! The idea of these Germans being so interested in that window display as to stand in front of the window for two, three or four minutes at a time, however, certainly seemed funny to me, and when I got back to the house I sat at the keyhole again and found just as much interest as before in watching the Germans stop in their tracks when they reached the window, even though I was now aware what the attraction was.

One of my chief occupations during these days was catching flies. I would catch a fly, put him in a spider's web (there were plenty of them in the old house), and sit down for the spider to come down and get him. But always I pictured myself in the same predicament and rescued the fly just as the spider was about to grab him. Several times when things were dull I was tempted to see the tragedy through, but perhaps the same Providence that guided me safely through all perils was guarding, too, the destiny of those flies, for I always weakened and the flies never did suffer from my lust for amusement.

The house was well supplied with books—in fact, one of the choicest libraries I think I ever saw—but they were all written either in Flemish or French. I could read no Flemish or very little French. I might have made a little headway with the latter, but the books all seemed too deep for me and I gave it up. There was one thing though that I did read and cherish from beginning to end, that was a New York Herald which must have arrived just about the time war was declared. Several things in this interesting me, and particularly the baseball scores, which I studied with as much care as a real fan possibly could.

I could not refrain from laughing when I came to an account of Zimmerman (of the Cubs) being benched for some spit with the umpire, and it afforded me just as much interest three years after it had happened—perhaps more—than some current item of world-wide interest had at that time.

I commaged the house many times from cellar to garret in my search for something to eat but the barest of three years of war had made any success along that line impossible. I was like the man out in the ocean in a boat and thirsty with water everywhere but not a drop to drink.

I was tempted while in the city to go to church one Sunday, but my better judgment told me it would be a useless act. Of course, someone would surely say something to me and I didn't know how many Germans would be there or what might happen, so I gave up that idea.

During all the time I was concealed in this house I saw but one automobile and that was a German staff officer's. That same afternoon I had one of the frights of my young life.

I had been gazing out of the keyhole as usual when I heard coming down the street the measured tread of German soldiers. It didn't sound like very many, but there was no doubt in my mind that German soldiers were

"I Figured I Could Put Up a Good Fight."

Marching down the street. I went upstairs and peeked through the window and sure enough a squad of German infantry was coming down the street accompanied by a military motor truck. I hadn't the slightest idea that they were coming after me, but still the possibilities of the situation gave me more or less alarm, and I considered how I could make my escape if by chance I was the man they were after. The idea of hiding in the wine cellar appealed to me as the most practical, there must have been plenty of places among the wine kegs and cases where a man could conceal himself, but, as a matter of fact, I did not believe that any such contingency would arise.

The marching soldiers came nearer. I could hear them at the next house. In a moment I would see them pass the keyhole through which I was looking.

"Halt!" At the word of command shouted by a junior officer the squad came to attention right in front of the house! I waited no longer. Running down the stairs I flew into the wine cellar and although it was almost pitch dark—the only light coming from a grating which led to the backyard—I soon found a satisfactory hiding place in the extreme rear of the cellar. I had had the presence of mind to leave the door of the wine cellar ajar, figuring that if the soldiers found a closed door they would be more apt to search for a fugitive behind it than if the door were open.

My decision to get away from that front door had been made and carried out none too soon for I had only just located myself between two big wine cases when I heard the tramp of soldiers' feet marching up the front stoop, a crash at the front door, a few hasty words of command which I did not understand and then the noise of scurrying feet from room to room and such a banging and hammering and smashing and crashing that I could not make out what was going on.

If Hoyer had revealed his hiding place to the Huns as I was now confident he had I felt that there was little prospect of their overlooking me. They would search the house from top to bottom and, if necessary, raze it to the ground before they would give up the search. To escape from the house through the backyard through the iron grating which I had no doubt I could force seemed to be the logical thing to do but the chances were that the Huns had thrown a cordon around the entire block before the squad was sent to the house. The Germans do these things in an efficient manner always. They take nothing for granted.

My one chance seemed to be to stand pat in the hope that the officer in charge might possibly come to the conclusion that he had arrived at the house too late—that the bird had flown.

My position in that wine cellar was anything but a comfortable one. Rats and mice were scurrying across the floor and the smashing and crashing going on overhead was anything but promising. Evidently those soldiers imagined that I ought to be hiding in the walls, for it sounded as though they were tearing off the wallpapering the picture molding and in fact everything that they could tear or pull apart.

Before very long they would finish their search upstairs and would come down to the basement. What they would do when they discovered the wine I had no idea. Perhaps they would let themselves loose on it and give me my chance. With a bottle of wine in each hand I figured I could put up a good fight in the dark, especially as I was becoming more and more accustomed to it and could begin to distinguish things here and there where as when they entered the pitchy darkness of the cellar they would be as blind as bats in the sun.

Perhaps it was twenty minutes before I heard what sounded like my death knell to me, the soldiers were coming down the cellar steps! I clutched a wine bottle in each hand and waited with bated breath.

Trump! Trump! Trump! In a moment they would be in the cellar proper. I could almost hear my heart beating. The mice scurried across the floor by the scores, frightened no doubt by the vibration and noise made by the descending soldiers. Some of the creatures ran across me where I stood between two wine cases, but I was too much interested in bigger game to pay any attention to mice.

Trump! Trump! "Halt!" Again an order was given in German and although I did not understand it I was willing to bless every word of it, because it resulted in the soldiers turning right about and heading up the stairs again, through the hall and out of the front door and away!

I could hardly believe my ears. It seemed almost too good to be true that they could have given up the search just as they were about to come upon their quarry but unless my ears deceived me that was what they had done.

The possibility that the whole thing might be a German ruse did not escape me, and I remained in the cellar for nearly an hour after they had apparently departed before I ventured to move. Listening intently in the night while for the slightest sound which would reveal the presence of a sentry upstairs.

Not hearing a sound I began to feel that they had indeed given up the hunt, for I did not believe that a German officer would be so considerate of his men as to try to trap me rather than carry the cellar by force if they had the slightest idea that I was there.

I took off my shoes and crept softly and slowly to the cellar steps and then step by step placing my weight down gradually so as to prevent the steps from creaking I climbed to the top

IRON AND BLOOD.

Few people know that every courageous, red-blooded person, such as our own soldier boys at the front, has within his body fifty grams of iron, or as much as is contained in an ordinary "tenpenny" nail. To be brave, courageous and active one must have good, red blood. Our men of iron are men with good blood, good circulation and an active liver. The poor, weak "sneaker" who is not brave enough to go to war, is probably unfit because of thin, watery blood. It is easy to acquire strength and red-bloodedness by taking regular exercises in the outdoors, breathing exercises in the morning, and something to increase the appetite and the red-blooded corpuscles.

The newest iron tonic is "Ironite" discovered by Dr. Pierce and his staff of physicians at the Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y. This "Ironite" tablet is a combination of soluble iron and herbal extracts, which is proving a wonderful success everywhere it can be obtained. Most druggists sell these "Ironite" tablets in sixty-cent vials.

Send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial pkg. "Ironite" tablets build up, strengthen, energize, and fill you full of vim, vigor and vitality.

The sight that met my eyes as I glanced into the kitchen told me the whole story. The water faucets had been ripped from the sinks the water pipes having been torn off, and gas fixtures, cooking utensils and everything else which contained even the smallest proportion of the metal the Germans so badly needed had been taken from the kitchen. I walked up stairs now with more confidence feeling tolerably assured that the soldiers hadn't been after me at all, but had been merely collecting metal and other materials which they expected an elaborate dwelling house like the one in which I was concealed to yield.

Later I heard that the Germans have taken practically every ounce of brass copper and wool they could lay their hands on in Belgium. Even the brass out of pianos has been ruthlessly removed the serious damage done to valuable property by the removal of metal never being taken into consideration. I learned, too, that all dogs over fourteen inches high had been seized by the Germans. This furnished lots of speculation among the Belgians as to what use the Germans were putting the animals to the general impression apparently being that they were being used for food!

This however seemed much less likely to me than that they were being employed as dispatch dogs in the trenches the same as we use them on our side of the line. They might possibly kill the dogs and use their skins for leather and their carcasses for food, but I feel quite sure that the Huns are by no means so short of food that they have to eat dogs yet awhile.

Indeed I want to repeat here what I have mentioned before, if anyone has the idea that this war can be won by starving the Huns he hasn't the slightest idea how well provided the Germans are in that respect. They have considered their food needs in connection with their resources for several years to come and they have gone at it in such a methodical systematic way, taking into consideration every possible contingency, that provided there is not an absolute crop failure there isn't the slightest doubt in my mind that they can last for years, and the worst of it is they are very cock sure about it themselves.

It is true that the German soldiers want peace. As I watched them through the keyhole in the door I thought how unfavorably they compared with our men. They marched along the street without laughter, with out joking without singing. It was quite apparent that the war is telling on them. I don't believe I saw a single German soldier who didn't look as if he had lost his best friend—and he probably had.

At the same time there is a big difference—certainly a difference of several years—between wishing the war was over and giving up, and I don't believe the German rail and the any more than their leaders have the slightest idea at this time of giving up at all.

A GAS RANGE THAT ISN'T A GAS RANGE

Many times it takes two lessons to make a single lasting impression. Through thrift and wise management these young people saved sufficient money with which to purchase a gas range. They didn't give the home gas man an opportunity to provide for their wants but instead were attracted by the "cut price gas range" from the mail order house. The range arrives, it proves a second or a third in quality, parts are broken and others were never designed to fit snugly and perfectly and it is a disappointed sorrowful couple that behold their folly. Before they fell victims to the mail order gas light and even with their previous bitter experience when the light failed, still they chose to nibble again at the bait of the ever reaching catalogue. Their loss is one they can ill afford and from which it will take them many weeks to recover.

Forty-fourth Annual Commencement held at the Grand Opera House; Miss Nina E. Trickey is Elected Principal and Teacher of Music.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, June 12.—The Mount Pleasant Classical and Scientific Institute is in a more flourishing condition than in several years is indicated in the reports submitted at the annual meeting of the trustees yesterday in connection with commencement activities.

The musical department enjoyed the largest attendance in its history, there being 143 students. This is one of the best endowed institutions in Western Pennsylvania. Permanent and special endowments amount to $54,000.

The school will reopen September 11. Miss Nina E. Trickey was elected principal and teacher of piano. Miss Elizabeth Jones was elected voice teacher and Prof. J. Hunter Gamble violin teacher.

The forty-fourth annual commencement was held in the Grand opera house last evening with the following program: Music, orchestra, under the direction of Prof. J. Hunter Gamble; invocation, Rev. J. E. Hartman; address of welcome, Miss Leona Stohl; the class president, "Marche Militaire" (Schubert-Tausig); Miss Leonabelle Morey; "Andante and Rondo Capriccioso" (Mendelssohn); Miss Leona Eleanor Stohl; "A Spring Morning" (Lane-Wilson); Miss Edna Viola Francis; March from "Tannhauser" (Wagner-Liszt); Miss Susan Anna Bohavie; address to the senior class, Rev. E. P. Smith; music, orchestra; presentation of diplomas, James S. Braddock; music, orchestra.

On Thursday the junior recital was given at the institute, with Evelyn Fabel, Myrtle Rose, Mabel Peterson and Doris Barclay taking part.

Council will hold a special meeting on Thursday evening in the borough building when an ordinance will be taken up which will compel all men within the draft age to go to work. A penalty will be set for all men who refuse to work.

ITCHING IRRITATION EASILY CURED

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try HOKARA, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so clearly that it does not soil the skin.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try HOKARA at small expense, the A. A. Clarke Drug Store is selling a liberal-sized jar at 35c. and in addition guarantees to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.

OVERWORKED MAN

Couldn't Get Man to Fill His Place.

Had to Keep On. How He Did It.
Saratoga, Cal.—"I am an engineer and overworked so I could not sleep, was tired all the time. I could not get a man to fill my place so had to keep on working. My druggist asked me to try Vinol, and it built me up and strengthened me so I feel fine and sleep all right."—Isaac W. Bradford.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the greatest body building and strength creating tonics.

We strongly recommend Vinol. Laughey Drug Co., Connelville; D. C. Eason, Dunbar, and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

TANK AT DAWSON

Harry Cochran Arranging for One at Fall Races and Fair.

Harry Cochran, secretary of the Dawson Fair Association, while in Washington, D. C., last week entered into negotiations to secure one of the old and worn tanks used by the allied army in the first years of the war for exhibition purposes at the Dawson fair, to be held September 10-14.

In addition to a number of early closing stakes that filled much better than expected, the class races at the only fair to be held in Fayette county this year, will be made to suit the tastes of the campaigning horsemen when they strike this part of the country on the Lake Erie circuit.

A fast pace will be put on which promises to surpass any of the fast paces seen on the half-mile tracks this year.

Why I Believe in Nuxated Iron

As a Tonic, Strength and Blood Builder

Probably no remedy has ever met with such phenomenal success as has Nuxated Iron. It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually are taking it in this country alone. It has been highly endorsed and used by Former United States Senators and Members of Congress; Physicians who have been connected with well-known hospitals have prescribed and recommended it; Monsieigneur Nannini, a prominent Clergyman, recommends it to his Former Health Commissioner Wm. E. Kerr, of Chicago, says it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician.

Dr. A. J. Newman, late Police Surgeon of the City of Chicago, and former House Surgeon Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says Nuxated Iron has proven through his own trials of it to exceed any preparation he has ever used for creating red blood, building up the nerves, strengthening the muscles and correcting digestive disorders.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician, Hospital (Quincy Hospital), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital says there are thousands of men and women who need a strength and blood builder but do not know what to take. In his opinion there is nothing better than Nuxated Iron—Nuxated Iron—for creating the blood and helping to increase the strength and endurance of men and women who burn up too rapidly their nervous energy in the strenuous strain of the great business competition of the day.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two Nuxated Iron tablets after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Microscopic Tests: Nuxated Iron, which has been used for nearly a century, is made with each of its ingredients, and other prominent points with each of its ingredients, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to the medical profession. Unlike the other iron preparations it is easily assimilated, does not cause constipation, and it does not cause the stomach to become indigestible. The microscopic analysis of Nuxated Iron will show that it is a pure and powerful blood builder.
